Our Programs

Fortnightly Home Visits

This program provides a variety of play and communication activities using everyday household items or homemade toys to help caregivers to stimulate children's cognitive, language, motor, socio-emotional skills, and physical development.

Nutrition Program

This program promotes low-cost organic food growing techniques by providing seeds, saplings and trainings to potential families. Also it includes demonstration of nutritious recipes.

Community Engagement and Awareness

Balsakhi and outreach Staff with support from AWW jointly organizes caregivers support group meeting to provide an opportunity for participants to share what they have learned from the home visit sessions, reflect on important gaps and challenges.

Caregivers Support Group Meetings

This program promotes community mobilization and create a conducive atmosphere for holistic childhood development in the first 1000 days of a child's life.

Low-cost Play Material Making Workshops

These workshops support and train caregivers to prepare low-cost ECD play material from whatever is available in the household. Also help them to understand how to use toys, what development domain it addresses and what to observe while playing with their kids.

Anganwadi Center Support Program

This program provides enhanced Anganwadi Curriculum to create early learning opportunities and to address the developmental needs of children under 6 years.

What Our Happy Parents Say

One of the mothers said ...

"I was not aware of the various things that I need to do for childcare. All are very simple, and we can do that at home as it does not need money. We thank you all for educating us regarding childcare."

The Father of the 2-year-old child said ...

"I rarely spend time with my child in the evening... Now I know that I have to do something to keep him calm and happy. I spend time with my child almost daily, and I am thrilled and loving it..."

One of the Anganwadi worker said ...

"Excellent training and regular follow-up helped us deliver the curriculum confidently. Mothers are also very excited about parenting meetings, which have changed parents' attitudes. Community is now actually interacting with us on child care issues."

Who We are

Stepping stones program works collaboratively with parents and caregivers to enhance their skills and competencies for responsive and joyful parenting, using a contextually and socio-culturally adaptive program. The Stepping stones program prioritizes the first 1000 days of life as they are crucial for a child's development.

Our Programs

- Fortnightly Home Visits for Targeted Intervention
To provide a variety of play and communication activities to stimulate early childhood development.
- Caregivers Support Group Meetings
To provide an opportunity for participants to share their learning, and reflect on important gaps and challenges.
- Nutrition Garden & Demonstration Center
To demonstrate nutritious recipes and provide nutritional supplements to pregnant and lactating women and their children.
- Low-cost toy/play material Making Workshops
To provide support and training to caregivers for preparing low-cost ECD play materials.
- Community Meetings
To promote community engagement for holistic childhood development.
- Anganwadi Center Support Program
Implemented an enhanced Anganwadi Curriculum to address the need for ECD.

Our Khelwadi Program

'Khelwadi' - a rural creche's vision: every child under 3 years in the community receives nurturing care and can learn and grow towards a brighter future. It offers -

- An activity-based, child-centered ECD curriculum
- Advanced developmental assessment programs
- Mentoring and learning services
- Community Engagement
- Supplementary nutrition with support from Anganwadi centers
- Home visiting program for very young children (under 18 months)

What Our Research Associate Says

“ I was previously unaware of the importance of a baby's first 1000 days, but now I understand that early childhood development (ECD) is crucial for the well-being of society. It is the responsibility of parents to ensure that they are equipped with the knowledge to provide the best possible care from the moment of child's birth. For me, being a part of this project is not just about providing parents with practical knowledge, but also about inspiring a sense of selflessness and compassion towards the next generation. ”

What Our Field Researcher Says

SWATI FIRKE
★★★★★

“ The Stepping Stones project was brand new to me when I started working on it. Every day in the field meant going to villages, making home visits and convincing the importance of child development as challenging as it is today. But still every day experience has developed me too. My colleagues have helped me a lot in this. During the first 1000 days of the baby, the amount of time the entire household spends, plays, talks and holds the baby helps the baby's development. These childhood days of the baby will never come back, so it is necessary to give proper time and love to the babies during this period. ”

VAISHALI SAW
★★★★★

“ New parents always have so many questions about early childhood development. Until we help them to understand joyful play and how it helps their child's growth is the most satisfying for me. I am satisfied that I am working for a better future. ”
